* Explanation concerning appropriate use of the projected operating results and other special remarks The forward-looking statements, including the operating results forecasts, contained in these materials are based on information currently available to the Company and on certain assumptions deemed to be reasonable. Actual business results may differ substantially due to a number of factors. Please see Pages 4-7 "Operating Results (1) Analysis of Operating Results" concerning the assumptions used as the basis for the projected operating results and matters to note before using the projected operating results.

1. Operating Results

(1) Analysis of Operating Results
$<1>$ Overview of the current period
During the consolidated fiscal year under review, Corporate earnings, continued to strengthen against the backdrop of an improved economic picture overseas and the effects of government policies, including emergency economic measures.On the other hand, concerns of a downturn in overseas business conditions, particularly in Europe and the United States, and the effects of the yen's sharp appreciation against the dollar and the impact of deflation lingered, as did the risk of an economic slowdown and deterioration in the employment situation, and conditions that make forecasting a tenuous exercise are expected to continue in the future.

In the LCD panel industry, panel manufacturers generally maintained high capacity utilization rates, despite a drop in panel prices from May and production adjustments since June aimed at reducing inventories, as stringent panel supply and demand conditions resulted from the introduction of high added value products, including 3 D televisions and the iPhone and iPad and the debut of four-color pixel television panels, and the effects of government measures in Japan and China to stimulate demand.

Under such conditions, the SK-Electronics Group implemented further cost reduction measures at its existing plants, as well as actions to boost orders. As a result, sales of photomasks of 8th generation and earlier overall remained stable.

On the other hand, demand for 10th generation photomasks expanded steadily in the first quarter, thanks to the smooth start of operations at Sharp Corporation's new Sakai Plant, but, as the initial demand had been satisfied and the demand for R&D photomasks was also substantially lower than projections, the demand for photomasks contracted sharply in the second and third quarters. Demand recovered and expanded steadily during the fourth quarter, driven by next-model development. As a result, for the consolidated fiscal year under review the SK-Electronics Group recorded net sales of $¥ 20,155$ million ( $7.9 \%$ year-on-year increase). With regard to earnings, the Group reported a large loss in the previous consolidated fiscal year that reflected the Shiga Plant depreciation burden and an impairment loss related to certain production facilities for the small and medium-sized photomask production lines, and although this large depreciation burden continued during the consolidated fiscal year under review, about 5.5billion yen same as the previous year,SKElectronics Groups achieved a return to profitability because of higher net sales, a higher percentage of sales of high-value-added products and cost reduction activities. For the full year, operating income was $¥ 279$ million (compared with an operating loss of $¥ 675$ million in the prior consolidated fiscal year), ordinary income was $¥ 187$ million (compared with an ordinary loss of $¥ 872$ million in the prior consolidated fiscal year) and net income was $¥ 277$ million (compared with a net loss of $¥ 2,011$ million in the prior consolidated fiscal year).

By product, TFT photomask net sales rose $26.2 \%$ year-on-year to reach $¥ 10,643$ million. Although the demand for next-generation photomasks from the Shiga Plant was sharply lower in the second and third quarters, net sales were driven by strong first quarter and fourth quarter growth in demand.

By region, domestic net sales increased $1.1 \%$ year-on-year to $¥ 12,149$ million. Despite a sharp contraction in demand in the second and third quarters, the higher sales reflected steady growth in demand for next-generation photomasks from the Shiga Plant during the first and fourth quarters. Overseas net sales expanded $20.1 \%$ compared with the prior consolidated fiscal year to $¥ 8,006$ million, reflecting brisk demand for photomasks from Korean, Taiwanese and Chinese manufacturers, and growth in demand in the fourth quarter for the multi-tone photomasks.

$<2>$ Outlook for the Next Period

Over the medium to long-term, the demand for large-format photomasks is expected to expand steadily. This projected growth reflects demand growth centered on LCD TVs at LCD panel manufacturers in foreign countries, increased demand from investment in new lines to support larger panels and higher demand from investments in new production lines in China, plus the ongoing development of new applications for LCD panels such as digital signage (electronic signboards).
In its outlook for the next consolidated fiscal year, the SK-Electronics Group expects photomask unit prices to continue dropping. While overseas manufacturers are expected to start up and expand new lines, and large-format photomask demand overall is envisaged to grow steadily, the final prices of products such as LCD TVs are expected to decline further and suppliers will be asked by LCD panel manufacturers to further reduce materials costs.
The SK-Electronics Group continues to adopt cost-cutting measures in response to this difficult operating environment. In addition, we are working to differentiate our offerings from our competitors, introducing technological proposals by proactively understanding of customer needs, and increasing the speed with which we can react through the close coordination of sales, technology, production and management functions within the Group.

For the next fiscal period, SK-Electronics projects consolidated net sales will decrease 9.7\% compared with the prior consolidated fiscal year to $¥ 18,200$ million, and non-consolidated net sales will shrink $10.9 \%$ year-on-year to $¥ 16,400$ million. With regard to earnings, consolidated ordinary income is projected to climb $87.2 \%$ year-on-year to $¥ 350$ million, and nonconsolidated ordinary income is projected to increase $18.0 \%$ compared with the prior fiscal period to $¥ 410$ million.
We ask for your continued support as we continue to expand as a leading company in the LCD photomask industry.
(2) Analysis of Financial Position
$<1>$ Assets, Liabilities and Net Assets
Total assets at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review decreased $¥ 6,845$ million compared with the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year to $¥ 25,380$ million. Total liabilities decreased $¥ 6,939$ million compared to the end of the prior consolidated fiscal year to $¥ 14,971$ million. This mainly reflected a lower amount of long-term loans payable.

Total net assets increased $¥ 93$ million compared to the end of the prior consolidated fiscal year to $¥ 10,409$ million. This increase was mainly due to an increase in retained earnings.
$<2>$ Cash Flows

(Cash Flows from Operating Activities)

The SK-Electronics Group believes that sharing Group profits with our shareholders is one of our most important management concerns, and our Basic Policy is to implement consistent profit distributions to our shareholders, in proper consideration of changes in the operating results of the Group. We will declare dividends in light of the availability of internal funds required for investment in equipment and research and development to expand our business, and our projections of future operating results, etc.

With regard to the distribution of profits at the end of the current consolidated fiscal year, the SK-Electronics Group plans to apportion a dividend of $¥ 1,000$ per share in conformance with our basic policy regarding profit distribution.

Furthermore, the distribution of retained earnings for the next fiscal year (FYE September 2011) is expected to be 1,000 per share, in conformance with our basic policy regarding profit distribution.
3. Management Policies
(1) Basic Company Management Policies

The guiding management policy of the Company is "Creation and Harmony." Our goal is to be a Company that pursues harmony among business, society, nature and people and contributes to an abundant society, both physically and spiritually, through the creation of beneficial products that meet society's needs.

Our Company aims to build a management structure capable of realizing continued growth and earnings by effectively utilizing internal and external management resources and responding quickly and appropriately to environmental changes in the rapidly growing electronics industry. At the same time, we also wish to contribute to society as a socially valuable technology company that plays a significant role in the fine-technology based electronics industry.
(2) Objectives and Management Performance Indicators

The main performance indicators targeted by the SK-Electronics Group are as follows.

|  | FYE 9/2008 | FYE 9/2009 | FYE 9/2010 | Target |
| :--- | ---: | ---: | ---: | :---: |
| Ordinary Income to Net Sales Ratio  <Profitability Indicator> | $5.2 \%$ | $-4.7 \%$ | $0.9 \%$ | $10.0 \%$ or  higher |
| Equity Ratio  <Safety Indicator> | $44.0 \%$ | $27.5 \%$ | $35.8 \%$ | $40.0 \%$ or  higher |
| R&D Cost to Net Sales Ratio  <New Development Indicator> | $1.4 \%$ | $2.1 \%$ | $1.2 \%$ | $5.0 \%$ |

* The above indicators have been calculated using consolidated financial figures.
* Ordinary Income to Net Sales Ratio (a profitability indicator): While the SK-Electronics Group has not yet achieved its target because of intensified competition in the market, we are focusing on profitability improvements based on reductions in materials and other costs and increased added value through differentiation.
* Equity Ratio (a safety indicator): Although we nearly achieved our target level in this category as a result of the implementation of continued capital investment coordinated with market trends, we will continue to improve this figure through the repayment of interestbearing debt from cash flow from operating activities and considering various capital procurement methods in addition to raising funds from capital markets.
* R&D Cost to Net Sales Ratio (an indicator of new development): We use this indicator to evaluate whether we are actively developing the new technologies necessary for the continued growth of the Company. Although we have not yet reached the target level, we will continue to focus our efforts to achieve the target level in the future.
(3) Medium to Long-term Corporate Management Strategy and Issues to be addressed by the Company

The environment surrounding the SK-Electronics Group's Comprehensive Large-Format Photomask Business is extremely difficult at present, with LCD panel manufacturers demanding continued price cuts in photomask unit prices and increased price competition among Company competitors. Given this environment, the SK-Electronics Group has been the first in the world to put a next-generation large-format photomask manufacturing plant ("Shiga Plant") into full operation. To secure its standing among top manufacturers, the SKElectronics Group has been practicing "Speedy Management," as well as working in a uniform manner to address the following three issues, guided by our mantra to "create future value through wisdom and passion."
<1> Stable operation of the next-generation comprehensive large-format photomask business As indicated by the start of full-scale mass production in October 2009 at Sharp Corporation's 10th-generation LCD panel plant (Sakai City, Osaka) and other developments, demand for large-format panels by LCD panel manufacturers is expected to increase. To respond to this demand, the SK-Electronics Group will make the most of the first-mover advantage offered by our next-generation large-format photomask manufacturing plant ("Shiga Plant"), which began full operations in March 2009. We plan to reach profitability well in excess of our competition and realize stable operation of our next-generation large-format photomask business.
$<2>$ Profitability Improvements in the Current Comprehensive Large-Format Photomask Business

In our current comprehensive large-format photomask business (8th-generation and earlier photomasks), we will be incorporating stronger marketing that responds quickly to capital investment and production trends among LCD panel manufacturers, including those in the Chinese market, which is expected to be a large growth market in the future. Internally, we are promoting stronger profitability through productivity improvements, fixed cost reductions and materials procurement cost reductions, all areas that will help us meet demands for lower photomask unit costs and increased price competition.
$<3>$ Early Commercialization of New Business Segments
Projections indicate that the comprehensive large-format photomask business will continue to experience increased demand for large-format panels, driven by the LCD television market. From a long-term perspective, however, the market appears to be steadily reaching a stage of maturity, with slowing growth rates. For the Company Group to achieve continuing growth, we must construct business segments that will become new pillars of revenues and earnings in as early a time frame as possible. The Company is studying a wide range of initiatives, including internal research and development and the adoption of external technologies, aimed at early commercialization through the efficient utilization of management resources.
(4) Internal Management Structure Development/Operations

A discussion of this topic can be found in our corporate governance report "Basic Philosophies regarding Internal Control Systems and the State of their Effectiveness."
